EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

BADMINISTRATORS: Last year a Parliamentary Standing Committee said there are 22% fewer IAS Officers in the country than the sanctioned strength, and the sanctioned strength is not enough to begin with given the evolving needs of Indian Administration. The thing is the private sector still isn't attractive enough and big enough for government services to lose their charm, aka, prestige, power and job security. Ferocious competition for limited seats tells us that. Therefore, finding more applicants is not the issue. Governments will have to recruit more.

But besides quantity, quality has also emerged as a major issue. Lack of reform in incentives and penalties have helped ineptitude, indifference and corruption creep in. The permanent executive also suffers lack of functional independence from the political executive. However, the self-aggrandisement stimulated by social media addictions is a fresh big blow to the All India Services (Conduct) Rules, 1968 that are meant to govern both IAS and IPS Officers. In social media, promoting work takes a distant second place to promoting the self. Social media activities of some bureaucrats make short shrift of not just "political neutrality" but "courtesy and good behaviour", too.

In the present case IPS Officer D. Roopa reportedly shared private pictures of IAS Officer Rohini Sindhuri on social media. That an IPS Officer would do this is bad enough, but, further, Police did not register an FIR saying that they were consulting "the higher-ups for legal opinion." Sindhuri's public barrage of allegations against Roopa likewise bypassed official channels for a bigger stage. The reputational damage from ugly social media boil-ups will also extend beyond the individuals concerned. Service seniors and Ministers must take note. — In The Times of India

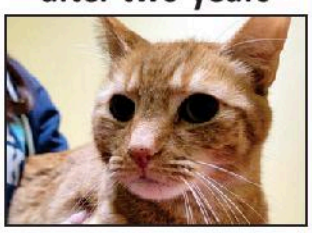
Ballpoint pen portraits of Patrick Onyekwere

Lagos: Talented Nigerian artist Patrick Onyekwere creates stunning, emotionally-charged portraits that look more like photographs than ballpoint pen drawings.

Living and working at Lagos in Nigeria, Patrick Onyekwere started drawing professionally in 2015 and has since become one of the world's leading ballpoint pen drawing masters. A fan of Kelvin Okafor, himself an accomplished hyperrealist artist specialising in pencil portraits, Onyekwere is able to capture and convey the emotions and feelings of his models like no one else.

He actually has an entire selection process that starts with inviting subjects to talk about their lives and their culture, before taking a few snapshots of them for reference.

Cat found 1,400 miles from home after two years



Kansas: A stray cat found wandering in Kansas turned out to have gone missing two years earlier about 1,400 miles away in Florida.

The Prairie Village Police Department said a local resident caught a stray cat wandering the city's streets and took the feline to be scanned for a microchip. The microchip revealed the cat, an orange tabby named Lucky, belonged to a family in Miami, Fla., and had been missing for two years.

"Our animal control officer contacted the owner in Miami and is working on getting them reunited," the department tweeted.

Police said they do not know how Lucky made the 1,400-mile journey from Miami to Prairie Village.

Traffic signal light needed at two places in Mysuru East

Sir,

Of late, the density of vehicular traffic has increased in Mysuru city due to tourist rush and also due to rise in number of vehicle purchasers. Hence, two traffic signals are urgently needed in Mysuru East — One at Sangeetha Corner in Siddarthanagar and another at Devegowda Circle on Ring Road (Bannur Road Junction).

Sangeetha Corner Circle connects four roads from Dr. Raj Kumar Road, Dairy Office, T. Narasipur Road and Siddarthanagar. There are many Schools, Colleges and Hospitals in the area and a lot of vehicles pass through this locality. Recently three accidents occurred at this busy Circle. Especially in the evenings, there will be a heavy rush for shopping by the residents of nearby layouts.

Devegowda Circle connects to Ring Road, Bannur Road and Kollegal and also towards Bengaluru. Most of the time, private buses, lorries and other vehicles pass through this Circle.

Also, vehicles travelling towards MM Hills, Nanjangud, Kollegal and Chamarajanagar too use this route. There are many new extensions being developed in the area and vehicle movements are bound to increase in the days to come.

Hence, in the larger interests and safety of people, I request the authorities concerned to take necessary action in this regard and ensure traffic control by installing signal lights soon.

'Kin-Kini Puja' of Chinmayee

Bhushans' Academy of Performing Arts and Visual Presentation, Mysuru, headed by internationally acclaimed Bharatanatyam artistes Badari Divya Bhushan and Dr. Anjana Bhushan presented their 8-year-old talent Chinmayee in their unique conceptual show — 'Kin-Kini Puja.'

Chinmayee started just last year right from basics and got trained for this big day within a year, covering the whole Margam, designed for her by her Gurus. Very few schools practice this ritual wherein the artiste gets trained within a span of one year, which is very challenging for Guru as well as shishya. Chinmayee started her presentation after Bhushans tied the "Kin-Kini" (gejje) to her, offering her obeisance to God, Guru and her mother.

The show had several unique moments where both Gurus Badari Divya Bhushan and Dr. Anjana performed with their student in two pieces. Bhushan played Vishnu where in Andal merges with God! Their entry to the stage presenting her to the audience also received thunderous applause by the audience. Chinamyee presented 11 beautifully crafted pieces displaying her Nritta and Abhinaya prowess.

The event was held at RamaGovinda Rangamandira in Ramakrishnanagar in city.

Bhanu Pratapa Sharma Guruji, Nrityalaya Trust Artistic Director Dr. Tulasi Ramachandra and Musician and Composer Vid. K. Guruprasad blessed the artiste and were thrilled to watch the young girl perform with ease. The show was well-attended by art connoisseurs.

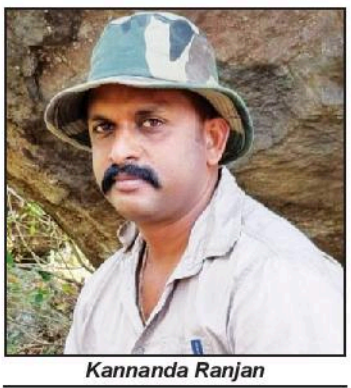
Forest Department's sharp-shooter officer

An expert in tiger, elephant capturing operation, Ranjan had darted tiger that had killed two persons in Kodagu



Kannanda Ranjan

Sharp-shooter Ranjan astride an elephant during one of the operations to capture a wild animal.

Siddapur (Kodagu), Feb. 23 (Mubarak&KS)- Sharpshooters of Forest Department play an important role and are known for their skills in capturing problem-causing wild animals such as leopards, tigers and wild elephants among others and they are engaged during man-animal conflicts to capture or rescue injured animals which pose danger to human beings.

For a sharpshooter, capturing a problem-causing animal needs dedicated efforts and a strong belief to save it along with patience and grit, which play a crucial role during an operation as every operation is different. One such sharpshooter is Kannanda Ranjan, who is serving as a Deputy Range Forest Officer (DRFO) at Dubare, Kodagu district.

Ranjan, along with combing expert elephant the daring Dasara elephant Abhimanyu, successfully darted the tiger that had killed two persons including an 18-year-old youth at K. Badaga village near Choorikaadu in Ponnampet taluk recently.

Seated on Abhimanyu, Ranjan fired the tranquilliser dart on the tiger without missing the aim even from far. The animal was sedated within moments which was later captured and shifted to Chamundi Wild Animal Rescue and Rehabilitation Centre at Koorgalli in the outskirts of Mysuru.

Ranjan has so far participated in more than 25 operations to capture wild elephants and in nine operations to capture tigers. He is a recipient of the Chief Minister's Award and also the Lifetime Achievement Awards given by the Kodagu Forest Department.

In February 2021, three persons including a teenager were killed in Ponnampet taluk and the big cat had created panic among the people. Ranjan was roped in by the Forest Department to trace and capture the tiger. The feline, however, was found dead later.

Ranjan has also participated in over 25 operations to capture problem-causing wild elephants and has helped capture many wild elephants after tranquillising them. When wild elephants were creating havoc in Uttar Pradesh (UP) by killing people, the UP Forest Department had sought the help of Karnataka Forest Department to capture the problem-causing wild elephants.

Three sharp-shooters from Karnataka, including Ranjan, were selected and sent to UP. They were able to capture the wild elephants there with the help of tamed elephants and their works were appreciated by all.

Apart from taking part in operations to capture wild elephants, Ranjan was also part of the team that investigated many forest and wildlife smuggling cases.

Sri Chamarajendra School for Excellence on NEP-2020 model

An overall facelift for earlier Sri Chamaraja Ursu Boarding School at Krishnaraja Boulevard

Mysore royal family members Pramoda Devi Wadiyar and Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar seen after garlanding the bust of Jayachamaraja Wadiyar during inauguration of Sri Chamarajendra School for Excellence in Chamarajapuram here yesterday. Others seen are Dr. Shalvapillai Iyengar, Chairman, Department of Ancient History and Archaeology, KSOU, Mahesh N. Urs, Secretary, Sri Jayachamaraja Ursu Education Trust and Ramachandra Raje Urs, DDPI.

Mysuru, Feb. 23 (MTY&BCT)- Sri Chamarajendra School for Excellence was inaugurated at Krishnaraja Boulevard in Chamarajapuram yesterday. This is the extended contribution of Wadiyars of Mysore, responsible for setting up institutions like the University of Mysore, Maharaja's and Maharani's College and several others.

Sri Chamarajendra School for Excellence has been set up under the aegis of Sri Jayachamaraja Ursu Education Trust (SJUET) and it is the new face of the Sri Chamaraja Ursu Boarding School that was established by Jayachamaraja Wadiyar.

The school is nestled in a spacious nine acres of land in the heart of the city, promising an eco-friendly campus and well connected to all the residential extensions of Mysuru city. Well-ventilated classrooms, activity-based learning, a spacious playground, well-trained teachers and an affordable fee structure form the additional features of the school.

Classes inside heritage structure

The school will start from the academic year 2023-24 on the model of National Education Policy (NEP-2020) and will function from the heritage building, which once housed Sri Chamaraja Ursu Boarding School, that was wound up four years ago due to the COVID pandemic.

Pramoda Devi Wadiyar of the erstwhile Mysore royal family inaugurated the school in the presence of Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar, the scion of the royal family and others at a function organised by SJUET. Pramoda Devi is the patron of SJUET and she launched the website of school on the occasion. Yaduveer is the Trust President.

The inauguration marked the birth anniversary of the erstwhile Maharaja of Mysore Sri Chamaraja Wadiyar and henceforth, SJUET which was established in 1957 will provide value-based education based on NEP-2020.

Educating girl child

In her address, Pramoda Devi Wadiyar recalled the contributions of Sri Chamaraja Wadiyar who laid special emphasis on education, agriculture and industries. "He strived for the overall development of the Mysuru region and 100 years ago, he established Vani Vilasa and Chamarajendra Education Institutions," she said.

"They were meant to educate the girl children as he believed that educating a girl child will be like educating the family, society and nation. We had to invariably close the Sri Chamaraja Ursu Boarding School for many reasons including the devastating COVID pandemic. Now, it has acquired a new shape in the form of a school of excellence where the curriculum based on NEP-2020 will be taught," she added.

Yaduveer said that initially students for classes 1 to 8 will be admitted. In the later years, the school will be upgraded to provide education till II PUC. "Through SJUET, we promise to include innovative technological teaching practices of NEP-2020 and we will strive to achieve a carbon-neutral campus," he said.

All the practices of the earlier school will continue in this NEP model school and will offer a curriculum to suit the current situation to better equip the students to be competitive, without compromising on the quality of education," Yaduveer noted.

Chairman of Department of Ancient History and Archaeology, Karnataka State Open University Dr. Shalvapillai Iyengar, DDPI Ramachandra Raje Urs Vice-President of Sri Jayachamaraja Ursu Education Trust Bharathi Sridhar Raje Urs, Secretary Mahesh N. Urs and Padmashree Urs were present on the occasion.

Inauguration of Mysuru Film Artistes and Technicians Union

Mysuru, Feb. 23 (SSM) - The newly formed Mysuru Film Artistes and Technicians Union will be inaugurated at a programme organised at Sri Mahadeshwara Complex premises in Nazarbad here tomorrow (Feb. 24) at 11 am. Kadamba Ranga Vedike, Mysuru, President Vidyasagar Kadamba will inaugurate while senior litterateur Bannur K. Raju will be the guest, according to a press release from the Union President Leela Manohar.

Mysuru-Bengaluru Expressway

Maddur has been chosen as the place of inauguration as it is between Mysuru and Bengaluru, Minister Dr. C.N. Ashwathnarayan said. "It will be a massive public rally to showcase the development model of the BJP Governments at the Centre and the State. While other Governments spent time just planning projects on paper, the NDA Government has implemented them," he noted.

"The Expressway has been built as per international standards and will be a boon to the travellers between Mysuru and Bengaluru. It will be an Expressway of investments to Mysuru in all spheres as at present, the main roadblock to Mysuru's development is lack of connectivity. The Expressway, with a travel time of 90 minutes, eliminates the lack of connectivity complaint," Dr. Ashwathnarayan added.

He said that the Expressway will help enable and facilitate the development of Mysuru and Ramanagara regions. "We have already laid a roadmap for the development of Mysuru under the 'Beyond Bengaluru' initiative. Hubs like industrial, cyber security, education and silk manufacturing will boost growth. The Centre's allocations are helping Karnataka develop a better networking system to connect the State with the rest of the nation."

50 more CCTV cameras

City Police Commissioner B. Ramesh (right) and DCP (Law and Order) M. Muthuraj at the Automation Centre this morning where CCTV cameras installed across the city are monitored.

City Police Commissioner B. Ramesh said that the hi-tech cameras installed at various junctions are capable of clicking registration number plate photos with timings of vehicles which are entering or exiting the city on any roads. This would help the Police easily identify suspicious persons or vehicles and trace them, he added.

"As of now, 108 CCTV cameras have been installed on prominent roads, junctions, commercial centres and tourist spots. We have plans to install 800 additional CCTV cameras in order to prevent and detect crimes and maintain law and order situation. A proposal will be submitted to the Government," he added.

The CCTV cameras will be monitored at the Automation Centre at City Police Commissioner's Office and if Police personnel monitoring the cameras come across accidents or any untoward incidents, they would immediately inform the Police Control Room, which in turn would inform the jurisdictional Police Station so that mischief mongers or criminals could be nabbed without wasting time.

Assistant Commissioner of Police (Traffic) Parashuramappa said that these hi-tech CCTV cameras would also be helpful in investigating riots, group clashes, dacoity, accidents, and traffic offences such as jumping signals, triple riding and other traffic rules violations by identifying the registration number plates through which the vehicle owners could be traced.

He also said that the hi-tech CCTV cameras will be useful in maintaining law and order situations, crime prevention and detection.

RTI activist releases audio clip of IPS Roopa's conversation with him

Open sparring between two women bureaucrats reaches the Court

N. Gangaraju

Bengaluru/ Mysuru, Feb. 23 (Agencies)- In the latest development to the bitter public spat between IPS Officer D. Roopa and IAS Officer Rohini Sindhuri Dasari, an audio clip was released yesterday where Roopa purportedly claims that she requested the transfer of her husband, IAS Officer Munish Moudgil, from the Survey, Settlement and Land Records Department.

In the 25-minute audio clip, Roopa is purportedly heard talking to Mysuru-based RTI activist N. Gangaraju where she has claimed that Rohini Sindhuri was seeking her (Roopa's) husband's help for her (Rohini's) husband's real estate business.

"I have asked the authorities to transfer my husband from the Department," Roopa is purportedly heard saying in the conversation that took place on Jan. 30, according to Gangaraju. The State Government has already transferred both Roopa and Rohini Sindhuri without showing any posting and has also transferred Munish Moudgil.

"I have documents (in the form of chats). She sent four pahani (records of rights, tenancy and crop inspection -RTC) numbers of land near Kabini and asked whether that land can be purchased and whether all documents were in order," Roopa allegedly said.

In another instance, Roopa alleged that Sindhuri enquired about a plot and asked whether 'podi' (split of survey numbers to sub-divisions) can be done for the land. "In many such cases, she has asked whether the land can be bought or whether there was a loan on the land, whether it was in litigation etc.," she claimed.

Roopa also accuses Gangaraju of filing cases against JD(S) MLA S.R. Mahesh on behalf of Sindhuri as the two were involved in a dispute during her tenure as Mysuru DC, which is speculated to have ended in a 'compromise' recently.

Gangaraju has accused Roopa of threatening him as he refused to yield to her pressure and condemn Rohini Sindhuri. Claiming that there was a threat to his life, Gangaraju said he would shortly file a criminal complaint in Court against the IPS Officer for threatening him.

Battle in Court

The bitter public spat between two senior women officers has reached the Bengaluru Civil and Sessions Court, with Rohini Sindhuri filing suit against 60 respondents, including IPS Officer Roopa. The suit was filed on Feb. 21 and it came up for hearing before the LXXIII Additional City Civil and Sessions Judge yesterday.

Rohini's advocate sought an injunction restraining the media and Roopa from making and publishing false and defamatory statements against her. The Court was told that as per service rules, Rohini has already filed a complaint with the Chief Secretary of the State and also lodged a Police complaint against Roopa.

The advocate alleged that Roopa had obtained details from mobile phones illegally and released it in the public domain. The suit claimed that the IPS Officer had released private photos of Rohini on her Facebook page and also disclosed her mobile number. The Court adjourned the case to Thursday for orders.

Will not withdraw plaint: Mahesh

Meanwhile JD(S) MLA S.R. Mahesh told reporters in K.R. Nagar yesterday that he will not withdraw his complaint against Rohini Sindhuri. Mahesh had filed a defamation case against Sindhuri on Sept. 22 last year for allegedly defaming him by making allegations of land grabbing against him.

"Rohini Sindhuri has asked forgiveness for the allegations she has made against me as the Mysuru DC. But I will not withdraw the case against her. These allegations were baseless and she had no documents to prove that I was involved in land grabbing. By making allegations against a people's representative, the IAS Officer has made irreparable damage to my public life that resulted in mental trauma," he said.

"I will not withdraw the case even if she asks forgiveness publicly. I have already submitted a complaint to the Government against her with proof and documents. Let us see what action the Government will take on her based on the documents against her," Mahesh said.

Rohini Sindhuri issues legal notice to Roopa; claims Rs. 1 crore damage

Bengaluru, Feb. 23 (Agencies)- In a related development, IAS Officer Rohini Sindhuri has issued a legal notice to IPS Officer Roopa over her remarks and demanded an "unconditional apology in writing" as well as Rs. 1 crore in damages "for the loss of reputation and mental agony."

The notice was issued in reference to Roopa targeting Rohini on Facebook and levelling 19 allegations against her which include corruption and other charges. Rohini Sindhuri said if her conditions are not followed, then Roopa will have to face Court proceedings.

"The comments/statements/ allegations made by you has put our client and her family members to untold mental agony. It has ruined her image in professional, personal and social life. She is spending sleepless nights as her moral uprightness, character and conduct have become the topic of discussion amongst one and all known to her and in the administrative/bureaucratic circles in particular," the notice read.

"Though the damage caused to the image and reputation of our client cannot be measured and compensated in terms of currency, our client, however, restricts the same to a notional figure of Rs.1,00,00,000 (Rupees one crore only). You have made yourself liable to pay to our client the sum of Rs.1,00,00,000 as damages," it added.

'Congenital heart disease accounts for high infant mortality'

Dr. Anand Lingan (extreme left), Consultant-Paediatric Cardiology at Narayana Multi-speciality Hospital, Mysuru, addressing the gathering at an event organised to commemorate Congenital Heart Defect Awareness Day at a private hotel in city recently as Dr. M.N. Ravi (second from left), Clinical Director and Senior Consultant Cardiac Surgery (Adult), Dr. Ravi Varma Patil, Senior Consultant-Paediatric Cardiac Surgery and Anaesthetist Dr. Dilip look on.

Mysuru, Feb. 23 (KS)- "In spite of common prevalence, advanced cardiac care is available to only a minority of children and Congenital Heart Disease (CHD) accounts for a high proportion of infant mortality worldwide," said Dr. M.N. Ravi, Clinical Director and Senior Consultant Cardiac Surgery (Adult), Narayana Multi-speciality Hospital, Mysuru.

Addressing the gathering at an event to commemorate Congenital Heart Defect Awareness Day at a private hotel in city recently, where a panel of doctors shared some insights about various cardiac conditions, how to identify them and best treatment modality available, Dr. Ravi said challenges to paediatric cardiac care include lack of awareness and timely diagnosis.

Realising the need for proactive response, Narayana Hospital, Mysuru, has succeeded in developing a comprehensive paediatric cardiac care programme and specialised clinic with trained paediatric cardiologists, surgeons and anaesthetists to manage these kids, including device closures of defects and surgery for complex CHDs. The commitment of the team at Narayana Hospital has helped in the hospital being recognised as the only centre in the area offering these services, he added.

Ten-month-old baby Manasi, hailing from Nanjangud, was diagnosed with a large hole in the heart (Ventricular septal defect) and only weighed 6 kg, with complaints of repeated chest infections and poor weight gain. For the first time in Mysuru, such a low weight baby was operated successfully at Narayana Hospital.

Similarly, another case of a newly born baby of an expecting mother Veena from Mysuru was diagnosed with a severe narrowing of the right side outlet valve of the heart (pulmonary valve). The defect was identified during pregnancy by foetal echo-cardiogram. Narayana Hospital undertook the delivery of the baby successfully and at 15 days of life, successful balloon dilatation of the narrowed valve was done without a need for open surgery by expert paediatric cardiologist. It is for first time in Mysuru that such a catheter-based procedure on a new born baby was performed. Earlier patients had to travel to Bengaluru for such complex treatment.

Speaking on the occasion, Dr. Ravi Varma Patil, Paediatric Cardiac Surgeon at Narayana Multi-speciality Hospital, Mysuru, said, "50 percent of patients need definite form of treatment in the form of catheter interventions or surgery within one year of life. We have successfully completed over 50 paediatric cardiac surgeries at Narayana Hospital and for the first time, comprehensive paediatric cardiac services are offered at the hospital. It is largely beneficial for the affected patients from Mysuru and neighbouring districts."

Dr. Anand Lingan, Consultant-Paediatric Cardiology at Narayana Hospital, Mysuru said, "An early accurate diagnosis by performing an echo-cardiogram helps in offering appropriate timely treatment to the patient. The cardiac intervention procedures undertaken at our hospital include device closure of ASD, VSD, PDA, Valve and Coarctation of aorta dilatations, stent implantations and pacemaker implantations in children. There is also an exclusive free 'Little Heart Clinic' being conducted every Tuesday to benefit the children for early diagnosis of CHDs."

To inaugurate convention of Government programme beneficiaries

Mysuru, Feb. 23 (DM)- Deputy Commissioner Dr. K.V. Rajendra said that the first mega convention of beneficiaries of various Government programmes will be held in the city on Mar.4.

Bommai

Addressing a meeting of officials at the new District Offices Complex in Siddarthanagar here on Monday, Dr. Rajendra said that the event would take place at the sprawling Maharaja's College grounds, in which about 30,000 beneficiaries from across the district are expected to take part.

Noting that CM Basavaraj Bommai will inaugurate the convention, the DC said that the District Minister, Legislators and other elected representatives will be present. Stating that benefits and facilities will be distributed to beneficiaries at the convention, he directed District and Taluk-level officials of various Departments to widely publicise the programme among the beneficiaries of different Government initiatives such as social pension scheme, old age pension, Gruhabhagya, women self-help groups, Ayushman Health cards etc.

ZP CEO K.M. Gayathri, MCC Commissioner G. Lakshmikantha Reddy and other officials were present at the meeting.

Teach children mother-tongue than forcing English or Hindi

Noted Linguist Prof. Patnaik says if mother-tongue is ignored, it will lead to separatism

Linguist Prof. B. Narayan Patnaik seen lighting the lamp during the inauguration of International Mother Language Day-2023 at Central Institute of Indian Languages in city on Tuesday as others look on.

Mysuru, Feb. 23 (MTY&BCT)- Former English and Linguistics Professor, IIT Kanpur and noted Linguist Prof. Bibudhendra Narayan Patnaik has opined that children who study in their mother-language medium schools have a very poor command over their mother-tongue.

"What we need is good pedagogical dictionaries and discourse grammars for the students of Class 6 to Class 8 for them to have a grip over their mother-tongues," he said. Prof. Patnaik was speaking at the International Mother Language Day-2023 organised at the Central Institute of Indian Languages (CIIL) here on Tuesday (Feb. 21).

"We are unaware of the fact that the vocabulary, command over mother-tongue and fluency are poor among children in their own mother-tongue. Many students of my home State Odisha, for example, cannot even write a short paragraph on any given topic and children studying in Class 4 do not know the alphabet of their mother-tongue," he said.

Importance must be given to the learning subjects in the mother-tongue and children should be given the freedom to get an education in their mother-tongue. Even Mahatma Gandhi advocated and strongly believed in education in one's mother-tongue. "Creating tension on the issue of linguistic territories is against democracy," he said.

"Unfortunately, we compare the education system in English and hail that learning other languages like English and Hindi is advantageous when compared to education in the mother-tongue. But we are ignoring the fact that our children are forgetting their mother-tongues and this is a great loss. It is imperative for our native languages to be developed as part of the changed education system," he said.

"We need to better equip our children in their mother-tongues and teach subjects in the language they are comfortable with. To make this possible, we need pedagogical dictionaries and pedagogical discourse grammar for students from classes 6 to 8 for them to learn to write connected sentences on various subjects and topics. These books/texts must contain short texts which are informative, educative and interesting to the children at their level. This will naturally make them interested in their own language," he added.

Explaining the dangers of not giving priority to the mother-tongue, Prof. Patnaik said that if mother-tongue is ignored, it will lead to separatism. "The 'Liberation of Bangladesh' is an example of this and India lost a good chunk of its land to separatism that ultimately led to the formation of Bangladesh. It is everyone's responsibility to preserve the cultural language and its diversity," he said.

India lost 220 languages in 50 years

Former Director of CIIL Dr. D.G. Rao said that India has lost over 220 languages in the last 50 years. Speaking on 'NEP: Opportunities and Challenges for Learning and Teaching of Mother-Tongue', he said that UNESCO has declared 197 Indian languages as endangered.

"There are many languages that do not have scripts and they are particularly in danger of becoming extinct. Forget about the endangered language list, even some of the 22 languages that have been listed in the Eighth Schedule of the Constitution are facing serious difficulties as Indian languages have not got their due recognition and there is no teaching, learning and resources to carry forward the language," he said.

To overcome this, teaching and learning Indian languages must be integrated with school and higher education at every level, he suggested. Excessive emphasis has to be laid on the study of the mother- tongue for languages to survive, he added.

CIIL Director Prof. Shailendra Mohan said that apart from the 22 languages mentioned in the Eighth Schedule of the Constitution, there are more than 100 unscheduled languages in India which is a language-rich country. Besides accepting the development of language in the age of information technology, concrete steps must be taken to save traditional and regional languages.

Technology and language

"As per the 2011 census, there are over 121 languages that are spoken by a population that is more than 10,000 and there are over 270 mother-tongues. To develop all these languages, we need dictionaries, grammar, linguistics and other language development methods including speaking, teaching, learning and disseminating resources," he added.

Technology will define the next decade for Indian languages and the role of technology in preserving and disseminating languages is imperative. "Technology in Indian languages, through Indian languages and for Indian languages is the way forward. It is important to have digital resources for all Indian languages and there is an urgent need to create technology-driven resources," he noted.

Mobile learning app for languages

CIIL is developing a mobile learning app for languages, said CIIL Director Prof. Shailendra Mohan. "The app will soon be offered to all residents of India under the initiative called 'Let's learn one more language. Our intention is to promote multilingualism and make learning languages easy," he added.

"Our Indian languages are equally important as English and CIIL is in the process of developing language learning apps in regional languages and mother-tongues. CIIL is committed to preserving and promoting all Indian languages and we are working with linguists and language specialists across the country for the development of both scheduled and non-scheduled languages," he said.

WORD OF THE DAY

Portend

Pronunciation: por-TEND.
Meaning: Portend is usually used in formal and literary contexts as a verb meaning "to give a sign or warning that something is going to happen." The "something" in question is often, though not always, considered bad or unpleasant.
Origin: It may seem like a stretch to say that portend, beloved verb of seers, soothsayers, and meteorologists alike, is related to tendon — the word we use to refer to the dense white fibrous tissue that helps us, well, stretch — but it's likely true. Portend comes from the Latin verb portendere ("to predict or foretell"), which in turn developed as a combination of the prefix por- ("forward") and the verb tendere ("to stretch"). Tendere is thought to have led to tendon, among other words. So you might imagine portend as having a literal meaning of "stretching forward to predict." In any event, the history of the word surely showcases the flexibility of our language.
Example: "While readers may at times wish [author Robert] Hardman's own views were presented more directly, he ultimately makes a clear argument that the United Kingdom—however loosely united it is these days—is unlikely to do away with the monarchy, even if the end of the Elizabethan era portends significant changes." — Autumn Brewington

PHRASE OF THE DAY

A penny saved is a penny earned

Meaning: The phrase 'A penny saved is a penny earned' means that it is as useful to save money that you already have as it is to earn more.
Origin: Almost everyone has heard of this famous expression. Unlike many others, the origin of the idiom 'A penny saved is a penny earned' is well-known — it comes from Benjamin Franklin's book, Poor Richard's Almanack. Interestingly, this successful series of books which was filled with advice, household hints, and amusing puzzles, also contained numerous witty phrases such as the one in question; like it, many of them are still in use today.
Example: "I'm going to give you $20, but I want you to put it in the bank; a penny saved is a penny earned!"
